

Student Employment Scoop

Special Edition – April 2017

National Student Employment Week officially “kicks off” on Sunday, April 9th and runs until Saturday, April 15th. Please take a moment during this time to offer thanks and appreciation to your student employees for all of their contributions and efforts over the past year. Gestures of gratitude are appreciated in recognition of the fact that our student employees play an integral role in keeping the University of Connecticut running. Here are some highlights from last year’s celebrations to use as inspiration!

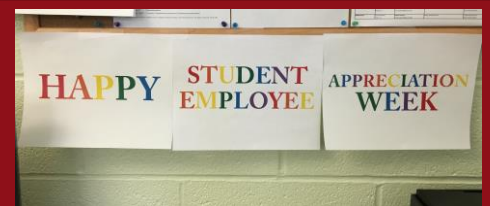

Printable tag from Pinterest

Goody Bags were given out to all of the students working in Financial Aid

More fun in Financial Aid!

The Learning Community showing their appreciation

Charlie Pei from the Library sent in this picture to recognize one of his star employees, Jessica

Biology Central Services threw a pizza party and gave certificates out to all of their student employees.

Token of thanks from the Child Labs

